

Jonathan Crofts

Dean of Technology

Jonathan Crofts, a native of the United Kingdom (U.K.), brings over a decade of teaching experience in secondary schools worldwide. His teaching journey has taken him from the U.K. to Panama, Spain, Vietnam, and now the United States.

Mr. Crofts earned his bachelor's degree in International Business Management from The University of Salford, Manchester, in the U.K. His expertise lies in high school subjects such as Business and Economics and middle school Technology and Computer Science.

Relocating to Oklahoma with his wife, Lucie Crofts, a first-grade teacher at ASTEC Elementary School, Mr. Crofts remains passionate about education. In his free time, he indulges in his love for travel and exploring new cultures. An ardent sports enthusiast, particularly in soccer, Mr. Crofts also enjoys watching and playing the sport.

The position of Dean of Technology allows him to further contribute to the educational landscape, combining his teaching experience with a focus on technology.
