

Danny Porter

Lead Dean of Instruction and Dean of STEM Education

Danny Porter was reared in Empire, a small township in southwest Oklahoma. He grew up in an Italian-Catholic household with his parents and four brothers. While in school, Mr. Porter participated in numerous activities and clubs including baseball, wrestling, Science Club, Key Club, FCA, FFA, band, vocal music, student council, Academic Bowl, and was the president of his senior class.

Mr. Porter attended Oklahoma State University (OSU) in Stillwater where he majored in pre-med sciences and secondary science education. He was very active in the Catholic Student Association, Science Educators Club, OSU Experience, High School Diplomats, Horned Lizard Conservation Society, Presidential Leadership and various other organizations.

Mr. Porter completed his bachelor's degree in secondary science education with a concentration in pre-med biological sciences. He then joined the ASTEC team as the eighth grade science teacher.

Mr. Porter lives in Mustang, Oklahoma and spends most of his free time taking part in outdoor activities including fishing, camping and hiking. He enjoys cooking, karaoke and spending time with family and friends.

Mr. Porter is the Lead Dean of Instruction, the Dean of STEM Education, and the cross country and rowing coach at ASTEC.

